Q2 & H1 2026 Highlights

- Volumes growth across most regions, while pricing continues to be pressured
- Improved mix
- Implementing cost control and OPEX discipline despite the shifting to growth mode
- Improved debt profile and cash management lowering financial expenses
- Higher reported and adjusted net income
- Crop Protection Industry:
  - Volumes expected to remain mostly stable after growth achieved in market in 2025
  - Prices remain under pressure as raw materials prices still remain at low levels due to structural over capacity
  - Farmer income is expected to remain pressured due to commodity prices and famer costs, despite some easing
  - Weather & geopolitical tensions contribute to market uncertainty

Highlights

- Sales increased 1% to $980 million
  - 3% higher volume and 4% lower prices vs. PY
  - Higher volumes reflecting improved market demand supported by new product introductions. Lower prices reflected the overall lower market pricing and weaker farmer purchasing power
- Gross Profit 1% above Q2'25; Gross Margin of 29.1% vs. 29.0% PY
  - Higher volumes, improved quality of the business as well as favorable foreign exchange impacts more than compensating for lower prices and cost increase
- EBITDA amounted to $118 million stable vs PY; EBITDA Margin of 12.0%, vs. 12.2% PY
  - Higher OPEX reflecting the negative impact of exchange rates, an increase in employee compensation and an increase in expenses supporting business growth.
- Adjusted Net Loss of $7m from $8m PY
  - Lower financial expenses positively impacted mainly by better debt structure, lower FX hedging costs and benefits of continued positive cash flow.

Regional Highlights

North America

Q2 $	CER	H1 $	CER
▲ 3%	▲ 2%	▲ 6%	▲ 5%

ADAMA Professional Solutions

- In Professional solutions favorable spring weather supported by higher volumes while price erosion continued in weed control segments
- In Consumer solutions sales were impacted by lower pricing and lower private label demand, while supported by favorable spring weather across the US and improved distribution in key channels

North America Ag

- Competitive and price-sensitive market; disciplined channel inventory management leading to slower replenishment
- Balanced portfolio in Canada supporting sales

LATAM

Q2 $	CER	H1 $	CER
▼ -3%	▼ -8%	▼ -3%	▼ -7%

Brazil

- Increase in volumes offset by weaker pricing following solid commercial execution across key crop seasons, including soybean and corn.
- Lower farmer profitability and increased competition, particularly in commodity products, weighed on pricing.

LATAM

- Higher volumes and continued commercial momentum, offset by weak pricing in a highly competitive market.
- Growth was supported by deeper market penetration and strengthened positions in key markets and was partly tempered by El Niño impacts and the normalization of channel inventories in parts of the region.

EAME

Q2 $	CER	H1 $	CER
▲ 3%	▼ -2%	▲ 9%	▲ 2%

- Higher sales reflecting MS increase and strong channel execution
- Farmer demand impacted by low famer profitability and dry spring season
- Lower market consumption, high channel inventory & high competition

APAC

Q2 $	CER	H1 $	CER
▲ 2%	▲ 5%	▲ 3%	▲ 4%

India

- Higher volumes and pricing reflecting continued commercial momentum despite uneven seasonal conditions, including delayed monsoon rainfall and El Niño-related effects on crop protection demand.
- Significant adverse foreign exchange impacts led to broadly stable sales in dollar terms.

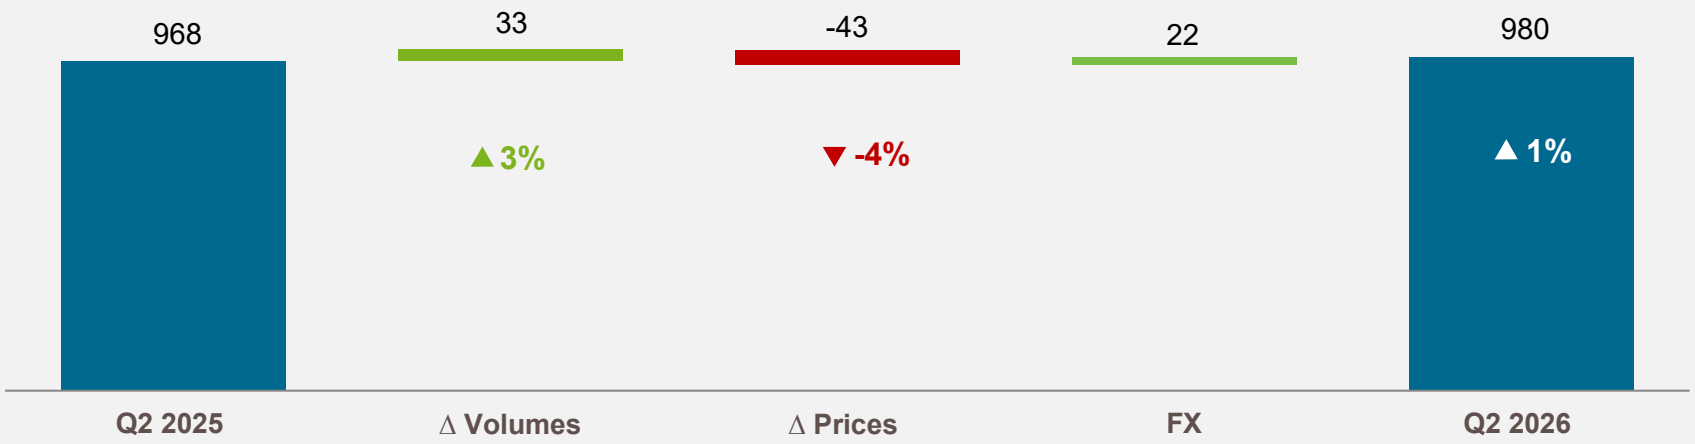

Pacific

- Continued impact of El Niño-related weather conditions, particularly in Northern Australia, offset by stronger demand in Southern and Western Australia.
- Retailers and growers continued to favor just-in-time purchasing patterns amid intense market competition.

Cash Flow

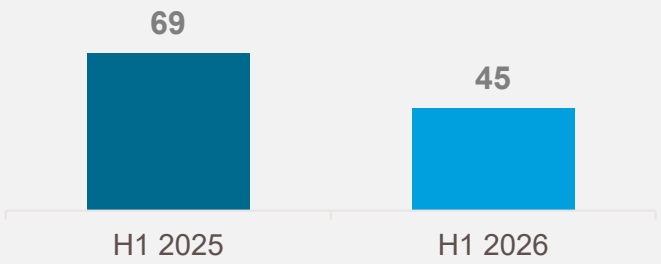

Operating Cash Flow

Lower collections due to timing difference in Q1'25 and lower procurement in comparison to last year, in which the Company increased procurement and inventory in order to provide business continuity during the merging of entities in Israel.

Free Cash Flow

Continued ROI-based investment discipline moderated impact on free cash flow and lower cash flow used in investing activities, due to proceeds from sale of a logistics center in Israel

Adjusted vs. Reported Financial Results

The financial results in this presentation are presented on an “Adjusted” basis, and differ to some extent from the “Reported” financials contained in the formal financial statements of the Company.

ADAMA’s approach on the use of adjustments:

- Adjusted results:
  - Exclude items that are of a one-time or non-cash/non-operational nature that do not impact the ongoing performance of the business
  - Reflect the way the Company’s management and the Board of Directors view the performance of the Company internally
- The Company believes that excluding the effects of these items from its operating results allows management and investors to effectively compare the true underlying financial performance of its business from period to period and against its global peers
